

Greetings Camper,

We at Camp Quinobequin are proud to report that our 100th season as "Boston's Premiere Summer Camp For Adults" was a huge success. We saw an increase in enrollment to over 2,439 campers. No one died! There were only 56 infirmity visits and no reported cases of cooties. Our dining services have expanded to feature meals from Anna's Mexican food and Redbones Barbeque. Unfortunately, many campers were turned away because of limited resources and time. We should have turned away the ones who went to Asia, our bad. Our camp's founding father, Teddy Roosevelt, once said, "The saddest thing I can imagine is the day when Quin must deny an eager young adult the opportunity to have the raddest time of their life". We failed you and we failed Teddy. To remedy this we are proposing two major additions to Camp Quinobequin. We are really excited about these changes and believe they will ensure another 100 years of food fights, camp fires, tanning, having fun and looking good. First of all, we are changing our motto to "America's Premiere Summer Camp For Adults". We thought, why should Boston have all the fun? Also the rest of the world doesn't matter, only Americans please. Let's open this up to everyone in the great USA and make Teddy Proud! We have selected the cities with the highest active membership to begin the expansion of camp. We are pleased to present the first of our satellite campuses:

Bunk 1 - Boston, MA

Bunk 2 - Portland, ME

Bunk 3 - Philadelphia, PA

Bunk 4 - San Francisco, CA

Bunk 5 - New York, NY

We believe expanding and sharing the joys of summer camp across many cities will help fulfill our mission of making all of our lives completely filled with awesomeness. Quin.

The timing of this letter may have given away the second of our exciting changes, but we believe it deserves a story too. Coordinator Rothmeier and Director Zondervan were walking through camp in the August of 2011. It was a brisk evening during the last week of camp when they head faint sobbing. They discovered Camper James on the boat dock, wearing his beaded necklace, his camp shirt filled with ROQs, rocking a permanent flip-flop tan, and sexting a fellow camper. They asked Camper James what was wrong and he tearfully whimpered, "I never want camp to end, and I'm a little bitch". The camp Coordinator and Director smiled and explained to Camper James that just because the leaves are turning and jeans are replacing skirts doesn't mean summer camp has to end. With that they vowed to never let camp end and make every day a celebration of summer camp. To implement this change we are excited to report that starting with Camp Quinobequin 2012: Season 101, camp sessions will now be 12 months long!

To coincide with the camps philosophy of being all-inclusive we decided share summer with fall, winter and spring. So this year camp starts in the fall and never ends!

As our forefathers taught us, if you put looking sweet and having fun before safety, and aren't sorry you like to party; then I invite you to join us at Camp Quinobequin for a LIFETIME of ridiculous awesomeness.
